- 6.2. Risk management: the management of risk increases the probability of success and reduces the possibility of failure (IPB 2009: VEC Risk excellence in governance through best practice risk management)
- 6.3. Risk identification: process of finding, recognising and describing risks (ISO 31000:2009)
- 6.4. Risk assessment: There are two main parameters for rating the risk:
  1. Likelihood: representing the possibility that a given event will occur – how likely is it to happen/what is the frequency?
  2. Impact: the impact or effect on the ETB if the risk actually happens – how significant might the consequences be?
- 6.5. Risk control/management/treatment: management controls or measures implemented to eliminate or mitigate the level of risk
- 6.6. Risk transfer: a method of control the level of risk e.g. purchase of insurance or engaging with a third party to own the risk and manage it

- 6.8. Risk register: database/repository of identified risks; it acts as a management tool for the documentation of identified risks
- 6.9. Audit: is a systematic, independent and documented process for obtaining audit evidence and evaluating it objectively to determine the extent to which audit criteria are fulfilled (OHSAS 18001:2007)
